

CRRECC WORK PLAN

January-April

- Research: Gather information, reports, articles, and identify best practices
- Presentations: invite businesses, government officials, nonprofits, institutions, scholars, residents, and etc. to provide helpful information
- Peer Review: submit reports to peer review members for critique and comments
- Team building among Commission members: provide opportunities for Commission members to get-to-know each other and to get a sense of their thoughts on the goals of the Commission's work

May-July

- Identify potential recommendations
- Explore and discuss pros and cons of each recommendation
- Input: create opportunities to discuss potential recommendations with businesses, government officials, nonprofits, institutions, scholars, residents, and etc. to determine reactions to recommendations
- Support: seek broader support for potential recommendations. Create a list of groups supporting the various recommendations. Collect letters of support

August-September

- Finalize formal recommendations that the Commission will forward to the City Council
- Write formal report on the work of the Commission and its recommendations
